What You Heard In the Word

- Jesus felt compassion for a widow who lost her son. Jesus raised the young man from the dead and restored him to his mother.
- Jairus begged Jesus to come and heal his only daughter who was dying. While Jesus stopped on the way to heal a woman who had been sick for 12 years, the daughter died. Jesus continued to Jairus' house and raised his daughter from the dead with a touch and a command.

OutWord For Family Discussion

Suppose your friend said that if you have enough faith you could be healed of anything. What could you say?

I've heard that, too, but it isn't biblical. Jesus healed a lot of people in the Bible; some had faith and some didn't. Jesus healed people to show he was God and to glorify the Father, not to measure people's faith. God can choose to heal or not to heal, and he can get the glory in either situation. God knows what is best for us and promises to comfort his children when they are suffering. The comfort we receive from God can help us comfort others who are also suffering. This doesn't mean we shouldn't believe God can heal or pray for healing. God wants us to ask for healing and to trust him either way. The results are always up to God.

Justin & Jessie

“Whaaa! Whaa!” Baby Mikey wailed from his crib. Jessie turned over in her bed and smashed her pillow over her ears.

What's wrong with baby Mikey? Why does he keep crying? Will Jessie and her mom figure out the problem? Read all about it in “Baby Mikey & Doctor Jessie.”
